Mr. Gates gave the alarm, which attracted the attention of his son-inlaw, Mr. John Griffith, who was standing on the other side of the street. The thief was chased to the wavy yard bridge, where the shoes were recovered. On the return of Messrs. Gates and Griffith, and when in iront of the store, they were attacked by the negroes, and Mr. Griffith was struck on the side of the head with a paring stone, which knocked him senseless. This had the effect of attracting attention from the miscreants, and they made good the escape. address of the general secretary, reports from the branches in different parts of the world, and many tables of comparative figures and compreheneive statistics. In opening his report, Mr.
John D. Prior, the general secretary, states that the year has been a period of prosperity to the society generally, but in America the depression of trade previously recorded had not yet passed away, and that he hoped before long a brighter day would dawn upon their brethren on the western shores of the Atlantic. Twenty-three new branches were started during the year listelle-eiten of them in England, one in Ireland, one ir the United States, four in New Zealand and ere in New South Wales. It was found desirably to close two branches in the United States.

Juring the year the cash balance of the setely has increased over $60,000, and the assets at the ministered unto, but to minister." He opens with a spirited description of a "stag hunt." We follow his imagination "to the death," where "the autumn winds sigh a requiem through the tail forest trees, a mournful dirge over a beautiful royal creature of the wood. The dogs are held at hay by his ferce and glorious struggles, but thud goes the fatal shot, and man is the great slayer. Yet the Lord appoints it. In death is life. The insectiverous plants absorb their daily animal food. Death is thus universal. Death is an organic law, established by nature's laws." He gives a fine connective picture of animal absorption by hand and seatch feeding of the stronger upon the weaker. Decay is followed by reproduction. Even in this there is a tinge of triumph over death. What a beautiful thought! "life from death."

We add a suggestion to those who would like to follow out this problem in organic law. You will find a most interesting work, written by a physician, Dr. Y. K. Chambers "Life and Death," in which a scientific man carefully explains why and how we die daily in the flesh, if not in the spirit, He says: "Let us come from the charnel-house to the bustle of joyous, brimming life, and ask how long it takes—not a dead, but a living body—to decay." Following the train of thought in analogy, he presents the death of Christ for the world on a strictly secentific plan. "Why was he crucified? He was the best man of his time. He laid down his life; no one took his life from him unwillingly, As son of God and son of man, in the combination we see the unity of the divine and the human nature. Christ has established immortality, dispelling all doubts. He left the glories of the Father, humbled himself, emptled limself unto death—death of the death-lessons. Christ's history would have been complete alone in the example of a pure life, without the sacrifice." [Certificate from Mr. J. Henry Carroll.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25, 1876.

My attention having been stiracted to a testimonial from Rev. Dr. Domer, the distinguished pastor of the English Lutheran church, Eleventh and H streets, this city, certifying to the remarkable cure of an affection of the ear by Dr. Hartley, I concluded to try the doctor's skill in a case of catarrh of very aggravated form, from which I had suffered many years past, which had seriously impaired my hearing and developed every symptom of consumption. I am happy to state that Dr. Hartley has effected a complete and radical cure, removing every vestige of catarrh, deafness and affection of the lungs, and I am now as healthy and can hear as perfect!" as at any former period in my life. Dr. Hartley's remarkable success in my case justifies this testimonial, and he has my best thanks, with a more substantial evidence of my appreciation.

in the example of a pure life, without the sacrifice."

He followed with a dissertation on the personal virtuee of the man-Christ. He then called our attention to the many passages of Scripture showing that Christ presented himself as bread upon which we may feed and be satisfied—"I am that bread of life. This is that bread that came down from heaven and gave eternal life." Ac. "In Christ's death we feed upon him by faith." "Age on age a deadily curse has followed man until the sacrifice of death for life." The living, spiritual food exemplified in the sacrament he beautifully illustrates, "feed upon him with thankgaving." In the application, he urges his heavers "instoad of drawing from the life of others as earthly kings feed on their subjects, to lay our selfishness upon the altar of Christ in renuclation and live for the good of our fellow-men, and we will surely rise to the glory of the life-eternal." No people in the world suffer so much with Dyspepsia as Americans. Although years of experience in medicine had failed to accomplish a certain and sure remedy for this disease and its effects, such as Sour Stomach, Heart-burn, Water-brash, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Liver Complaint, coming up of the food, low spirits, general debility, &c., yet since the introduction of Griken's August-Flower we believe there is no case of dyspepsia that cannot be immediately relieved. Mr. Catlin is making his second tour through this country and Canada, as the agent of British emigration society, and has testimonials from the Lord Mayor of London, Lord Shaftsbury and prominent English cleraymen. Being himself a representative of the working class, ke spoke in a plain, practical and pointed style, urging the claims of Jesus upon the unpentient. Secretary Stemart followed with a short impressive speech, and announced that Mr. Catlin would speak at the same place at So'clock to n'and and several succeeding evenings. As the result of the inquiry meeting, which closed the exercises, it was stated that five or six anxious ones were present, and one had announced his intention to lead a new life. TRASURY DEPARTMENT,

OFFICE OF THE LIGHT-HOUSE SUP-PLIES.

TRASURY DEPARTMENT,

WASHINGTON, May 19, 1876.

Sealed proposals for furnishing light house supplies for the year ending June 30, 1877, will be received at this office until the 20th day of June, 1876, at 12 o'clock m.

The supplies needed consist of Glass Chimneys, whiting and other cleaning material; Brushes, Paints, Oil, &c., Tinware, Hardware, Carpenter and Garden Tools, Brooms, Mops, Dusters, &c., and many other articles, all of which are enumerated in the specifications attached to the forms of bids, which may be had at the offices of the lighthouse inspector at Tompkinsville, Staten Island, N. Y., Philadelphia, and at this office.

Samples of all the articles required will be open to inspection at the office of the lighthouse inspector, on reception, with the sample, and, if not found up to sample in every respect, will be rejected, item by item; and this advertisement and found up to sample in every respect, will be rejected.

The bids will be considered and accepted or rejected, item by item; and this advertisement and the proposal, so far as accepted by the Secretary of the Treasury, and the accompanying bond, shall constitute the contract between the Government and the bidder or bidders, and no further contract will be executed.

The articles contracted for must be furnished from time to time during the year, in quantities pursuant to orders from the Lighthouse Board. The entire quantities will however, be called for during the year.

pursuant to orders from the Lighthouse Board. The entire quantities will however, be called for during the year.

Each proposal must be signed by the individual or firm making it, and be accompanied by a bond, with sufficient survities, in the sum of ten thousand dollars, ($40,000$), approved by a United States officer in the district in which the survities reside or do business, on a form to be furnished by this office, conditioned for furnishing such portions of the articles as may be awarded under it, and the performance of the contract.

All deliveries will be subject to inspection by an expert detailed for the purpose by this office, and the delivery of an inferior article will be deemed sufficient cause to annul the contract, at the option of the Board.

Deliveries must be made, free of charge, at the Lighthouse depot at Staten Island, N. Y.

The failure to comply with any one order under the contract will operate assa forfeiture of the entire pensity of the bond, or the Board may direct the purchase, in open market, of such quantities of any articles as shall be necessary to supply the deficiency caused by such failure, and charge to the contractors fifty per contum of the price which it shall be found necessary to pay for such articles.

Proposals unaccompanied by a satisfactory bond.
